BOOM FOR MARTIN SAXE, GAG DOGS AND ROOSTERS!

Proposed for District Attorney on Republican Ticket.

Senator Martin Saxe, who beat George W. Flunkitt in a strong Tammany district a year ago, may be the Republican candidate for District Atstraight ticket. The friends of Senator Saxe have edded to present his name to the conference of Republican leaders next week at the Fifth Avenue tel, believing that no fitter man could be named for the place. Their argument is that Mr. Saxe made a good record while head of the bureau for the collection of arrears of personal taxes, and that his running qualities were proved when he

Colonel Michael J. Dady, of Brooklyn, said yesterday that Borough President Littleton of that borough, a strong Democrat, was likely to be named for one of the places on the anti-Tammany ticket, presumably for the office of President of the Board of Aldermen. Brooklyn Republicans who to have Mr. Littleton on the anti-Tammany ticket desire to carry the Republican county ticket against the wily McCarren, and they be pretty sure to do it with a hustling Democrat like Littleton on the ticket. It would give the officeholders in the borough government sive the officeholders in the borough government and the Shevlin men a fine chance to punish McCarren, but it is likely that the Littleton Democrats would demand a large proportion of the places on the county tieket if their champion goes into any such combination.

Ex-Senator John Ford said vesterday that it would be folly for the Republicans to nominate ex-Mayor Schleren for Mayor, because, Mr. Ford says, "Schleren stands for nothing at all. This is a campaign when we have got to nominate a man close to the people." It is understood that Mr. Ford is in favor of the nomination of a former State Senator named Ford.

DADY EXPECTS FUSION.

Brooklyn Man Thinks Prospects for Defeating Tammany Promising.

Fusion between the Republicans and the inde pendent Democrats, in the opinion of Colonel Michael J. Dady, of Brooklyn, is a combination which can defeat Tammany at the coming election for Mayor. According to Colonel Dady, such a combination might be effected this fall.

Perhaps this intimation that the anti-Tammany elements will be united is all the more important because of Colonel Dady's conference on Wednesday with Chairman Benjamin B. Odell of the Republican State Committee. Colonel Dady still favors ex-Mayor Schieren of Brooklyn as the fusion candidate for Mayor.

"I told Governor Odell," he said yesterday, "as I have told many others, that in my opinion ex-Mayor Schieren, of Kings County, would make the most available Republican candidate for

The best proof perhaps that the candidates being considered for the fusion ticket are men of unquestionable political independence, is the fact one of these is Borough President Martin W. Littleton, a Democrat Mr. Littleton has been mentioned as the probable fusion candidate for Controller.

Regarding the availability of the Borough Presient, Colonel Dady said:

William Astor Chanler Appears to Lend Prestige to Saloonkeeper's Canvass.

George S. It was a summernight's festival, and was given under the auspices of the William Astor Chanler Association, the recently formed organization to boom O'Neil's candidacy. To give prestige to O'Neil's canvass Mr. Chanler consented to have the association named after him, and did it the honor of appearing at its first "free-for-ali" blow-out. O'Nei's friends explained that he was not fighting Joseph F. Prendergast, the present leader of the district, but State Senator Martin. They say that Martin, and not Prendergast, is the leader, and that he had Prendergast made leader without consulting the "big guns" in the district.

"We're fightin' Barney Martin, and we're going to whip him," they said.

CYCLE STARS BEATEN.

Iver Lawson Wins Twenty-Mile Race at the Big Garden.

With the exception of the twenty mile race, it was a bad night for the stars at Madison Square Garden last evening. This race brought out fourteen of the best riders in the country, and was won second, a half wheel behind Lawson. The time

In the race were Kramer, Fenn. McFarland and Lawson was teamed with Fenn, while Bedell had Root as team mate. For the leader of each mile $5 was given, and Dorlan was the most successful, getting over the tape six times ahead of the rest of the field.

In the fifth mile Root set a hot pace, and, folowed by Bedell, gained more than half a lap on the other riders. Then Kramer made a spurt, followed by Lawson and Dorlan, went after Root. By this time Root had gained nearly a lap, and when Kramer was within half a lap of Root the former gave up the race. Lawson kept up the pace, and soon had overtaken Root, with Dorlan trailing after him. This gave a lead of a lap to Root, Bedell, Lawson and Dorlan.

As prizes were offered to the first four only, the other riders were ordered off the track in the final mile so that the leaders could fight it out. Some of them did not understand the order and eight riders remained in the race to the finish.

Fogler led in the first mile in 2:18. Lawson was first over the tape in the fifth mile in 10:06, and in the tenth mile in 24:19 4-5. Bedel lcrossed the tape in the lead in the fifteenth mile, in 37:15 2-5. It was in the one mile professional that the star

Man Said To Be Dying in Moscow Sends Letter from Paris.

Yarmouth, Mass., Aug. 17 .- Considerable interest is manifested here in and mystery seems to surround the reported disappearance from Paris of Enoch Emery, formerly of Yarmouth, who, for several years, has been conducting extensive commercial enterprises in Siberia. The cable dispatch received last night by Mayor Collins of Boston from United States Consul General Wynne, at London, telling of Emery's disappearance and requesting that his brother Charles be informed, showed that the whereabouts of the latter is unknown.

Two weeks ago Charles Emory received a cable message which stated that his brother Enoch was dying at his home in Moscow. A few days later a registered letter arrived here for Charles, who, in the mean time, had closed his home and left town with no word as to where he intended to go. No further information has been received to explain how Emory reached Paris so soon after he was reported dying at Moscow.

FIREMEN AND CONTRACTORS CLASH.

Trouble with J. J. Murphy's Men at P. R. R. Terminal-Court Rules Against Mechanic.

Charges of abusive language, brought by Patrick Gillen, master mechanic for the New-York Contracting Company in its work on the Pennsylvania Railroad terminal, against Lieutenant Charles Douth, of truck No. 24, stationed opposite the terminal excavation, were dismissed yesterday by Deputy Fire Commissioner

According to Lieutenant Douth, the trouble grew out of Gillen's objection to the tests of water tower No. 3 in front of the house in 33d-st. Gillen said water was allowed to fall into the excavation. A dispute followed.

All the firemen testified that there has been constant friction between them and Gillen and his workmen, and that the charges were only from spite. Battalion Chief Howe said that the contractors had so torn up the street in front of the engine house that the companies there had to make a detour of several blocks to respond to West Side alarms. John J. Murphy, brother of the Tammany Hall leader, is president of the contracting company.

LION DESTROYS $10,000 CURIOS.

Indian Dancer at Coney Narrowly Escapes with Life-Costume Ruined.

Wahkettetah, the Moqui Indian princess who dances among the lions at Bostock's wild animal show, Coney Island, narrowly escaped death yesterday by an attack of the lion Gladstone. Her gorgeous Indian costume, valued at $10,000, was practically ruined. The assault was in the runway behind the arena. Gladstone, a usually good lion, flew at her; his paw just missed her and tore her costume to shreds. In dodging out of the way the girl lost her headpiece of feathers, and Gladstone pounced upon it and crumpled it into nothing. The eagles' claws were a collection made by her father, a big medicine man of the Moquis, through years of ceremony involving the eating of the sacred eagle, and the feathers were from his war bonnet.

NO MACKAY CASINO THIS YEAR.

Sale of Congress Spring Park Denied by Owners of the Property.

[BT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 17 .- President William W. Worden of the Congress Spring Company says that property has not been sold to the Clarence H. Mackay syndicate, or to any other persons, as was reported here to-day. Last year the Mackay syndicate, many members of which are summer residents, considered the project of purchasing Congress Spring Park and building a modern casino. Many subscribed to the proposition, but beyond that nothing more of a tangible nature developed.

This summer the project was revived by representatives of the Mackay syndicate, but it now appears to be no nearer a consummation than it was a year ago, yet it is within the range of a possibility that negotiations may be renewed before the beginning of another season.

Man Was the Fourth Victim of the Train This Month.

Conrad Benson, of No. 515 54th-st., Brooklyn, was killed yesterday on the Hudson River Railroad tracks near the new Central power house at Glenwood. He was struck by the Twentieth Century Express, which hurled him over 150 feet through the air. No one at first knew who the dead man was. Patrolman Charles A. O'Mara found in one of the pockets a business card of a concern at No. 202 East 23d-st., Manhattan, which revealed his name and address. Benson was standing between two tracks. He saw the northbound train approaching, and stepped forward to get out of the way. In doing so he walked directly in front of the southbound Twentieth Century. Benson's body flew directly over the heads of three men standing near the river bank, and fell within a few steps of them. He had been killed instantly.
